The Cession of Goat Island.

Senator Shortridge has revived the Goat Island scheme in the Legislatuee. This scheme is one to make the island a railroad terminus for all the lines centering at San Francisco. It is one of the most sensible ideas ever evolved for the advantage of a great commercial community—and, the cynic might add, one of the most hopeless. It is now pretty generally understood that the plan may be advocated without being inspired by railroad interests. It would be such a manifest advantage to all interests that it cannot be held to be for the behoof of any one in particular. The uses to which the island is now put are not such as to make the abandonment of the island as a federal station out of the question. There is no insuperable obstacle whatever. — Alameda Argus.

A Hoodoo That Never Tires

The Los Angeles Times, which has never treated Governor Pardee with fairness, is now doing its very best to lower the Governor in the estimation of the people of California. And, as everybody knows, this is a good sign that Pardee is all right, and will be nominated and re-elected. The Times' hoodoo never tires, never balks, and is always in working order. — Santa Ana Times.

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

A TIME FOR VIGOROUS REPUBLICANISM.

By turning out at the polls at what is misleadingly called an "off" election the Republicans of Illinois have retained a majority of the Supreme Court of the state. Members of the judiciary in their decisions should be absolutely free from partisan bias, but they are rightly members of parties and, outside of their judicial duties, supporters of distinctive party policies. All men should be truthful, conscientious and fair, and all alike must bow to fundamental principals of what is eternally right, but there are many broad questions of public policy on which honest differences of opinion are held. Often an important decision of thenational Supreme Court hinges on a single vote, showing the nice balance in which judicial problems are weighed. A Taney and a Chase, unright men both, would not be likely to agree on certain matters of the first consequence to the welfare of the government, or as to its basic elements. Judicial bodies represent much more thanthe clashes of private interests. They are in politics to the extent that politics is the science of good government.

In the present confused condition of the opposition in its medly of factions and search for issues, a grave responsibility rests on the Republican party. It is the only national party in the United States. The main proof of this assertion is the fact that the country was controlled bythe Republican party when the Union was saved from dismemberment. All other parties now are sectional, as well as at sea on politics. It will be said that the Republican party gets little support in the south. But that section has the equal benefits of Republican measures,which are in all respects essnetially national, knowing no north, south, east or west. The prosperity enjoyed by the country during the last nine years is as broad as the whole nation, blessing all its citizens alike. New issues are likely to spring up with little notice. Some of the most exciting political contests have been born rather than made. Fortunately, the Republican party is in good trim. Its confidence is justified by the competent results that all can see. It should be ready to fulfill every duty as it presents itself.

WHAT A CHANGE.

Mrs. William Ellis Corey, who was young, sweet and pretty enough for William Ellis Corey when he was working on a small salary and learnin how to make steel in Andrew Carnegie's works and who struggled along and reared a family for him but who is now no longer young nor as pretty as some high-kicking, cigarette smoking, cocktail drinking actresses who have beguiled him along the primrose paths in Pittsburg, New York and Paris—Mrs. Corey has again appeared in Reno, Nevada, again to take up her residence there, with Mr. Corey's mother and maiden sister, to get a collusive divorce, receive an independent fortune from her disreputable husband and allow him to go his way and connubiate whithersoever and with whomsoever his highly developed tastes may lead him. And such is the life of "frenzied financiers" and leaders of the frenzied society of the "rotten rich," who are becoming a curse to the country whose social structure they are surely undermining.

THE LEGISLATURE ADJOURED

The Legislature, called in extraordinary session by Governor Pardee, has completed the work for which it was convened and adjourned. So far as its work has developed it appears to have been well done and done with a single purpose of meeting the exceedingly difficult situation created by San Francisco's calamity and discharging that duty with the least possible expense to the state. While the credit for this is primarily due to the members and officers of the Legislature, who will be held responsible for the work, not a small share of credit must be given to the committee on legislation that worked voluntarily for weeks in San Francisco getting the needs of that city expressed in terms to be enacted by laws. And now the work of all of these has been passed up to Governor Pardee, who is expected to examine, approve and give validity to such as are found imperatively necessary to the welfare of the state. California appears to be fortunate both in her lgeislature and in her Governor, and congratulations are in order all around.

Tendered His Resignation

George G. Radcliff for many years connected with the Watsonville Pajaronian and the present postmaster of Watsonville, has tendered his resignation, of the position to take effect July 18th nxet. Mr. Radcliff has made a hustling postmaster for our south-end city and will now take a month's vacation and then devote his efforts more closely to the Pajaronian of which he owns a half interest.

Reconstruction of San Francisco.

What it means, in money, to make a start toward the reconstruction of San Francisco, takes on definite expression in the shape of estimates for the first new structures—thirty in number, which will be under way as soon as men and material can be assembled for th ework; $14,102,000; over fourteen million dollars! And the total floor space exceeds 56 acres. Combined in one vast structure the plans would equal a building the size of the famous Palace hotel 200 stories high, or twice the height of the Eiffel Tower.

This is only the beginning, and refers only to high-class structures. Pp to date, about 500 applications for building permits have been filed, figures which will be largely increased as soon as adjustment of insurance is made.

Contracting agents report that all buildings planned are invariably superior in class, finish and equipment, to buildings destroyde by fire.

A feature of many of the new buildings is to be the installation of an absolutely fireproof vault in the basement, which will be arranged to accommodate each tenant with a separate compartment, similar to safe deposit vaults.

Irrigation Is the Thing.

The men who are pushing irrigation into the arid regions of the great west are benefitting more of the populace of this country dirceitly and indirectly than any other body of men who are interested in public work.

More irrigation means many more productive homes for individual farmers, and homes that, once occupied will not be deserted, as crops and prosperity are insured to the farmer who has the water supply under his control.

Irrigation means more traffic for the railroads, more and better food for the people who live where food is scarce and high. It developes those regions of the country that most need developing; it relieves congestion in the older agricultural regions by affording new and attractive fields for the progressive young men. It is a work that should be more appreciated and encouraged.—N. Y. Sun.

St. Peter's Church.

Sunday next, the first Sunday after Trinity, the services in St. Peter's church will be as follows: the Holy Eucharist, 7:30 a. m.; Morning Prayer, 11:00a. m.; Evening Prayer 7:30 p. m.; Rev. D. M. Crabtree will preach at Morning Prayer. The preacher at Evening Prayer will be the Rev. E. F. Gee, who is well known to some of our people and is a most convincing preacher of the faith. He is the rector of St. John's church, Oakland. This is Oakland's oldest and one of its largest and most successful parishes,widely known as the mother church of that city, which under Rev. Mr. Gee's careful and wise pastorate is constanily growing in numbers and influence. It is expected that the choir will be aided at Evening Prayer by several choir men from San Francisco and the cathedral service will be rendered.

Baptist Church.

In order to accomodate the workers at the Baptist church who come by train every Sunday to assist in the services a rearrangement of hours has been made. Next Sunday the preaching service will begin at 3:30 and the Sunday school session at 4:15. This will make both services brief, as the whole service, both preaching and Sunday school must conclude at five or a few minutes after. The subject of the Missionary's address next Sunday will be "The Judgement of the Nations"

She Was Ahead.

Marjorie had just returned from a visit to the old homestead in Tennessee, where a colored nurse nearly 100 years old was still an inmate. It puzzled her that Chloe should be called "auntie" by her mother and the family, but at last she accepted the fact and did likewise. Her playmates, trooping in to welcome her home, began to enumerate their possessions acquired during her absence.

"I've got a black pony," crowed Charlie exultantly.

"I've got a new baby brother," cried Jessie.

"M'm! That's nothing; I've got two of 'em," retorted Fred.

Marjorie's eyes flashed. "Oh!" she cried. "I've got a heap more'n that; I've got an auntie as old as Mefusela and black as tar."—Leslie's Weekly.

The Smelter Is An Assured Fact.

It is with great pleasure that we feel able to announce that the smelter at South San Francisco is an assured fact. The plans have been made and accepted, the machinery designed and ordered, and the buildings will be commenced shortly. The new smelter will have a capacity sufficient to handle two hundred tons of high grade ore per day. This is not what would be called an engineering circles a great smelting plant, but nevertheless it means, with its by-products and kindred industries, steady and profitable employment for about 2500 men, or in other words a further population for our northern neighbor of fully 12,500 souls. Other industries nearly related to smelting will come in and there is not the least doubt that in five years South San Francisco will be a city of 25,000 inhabitants.

The smelter is being erected exclusively for the purpose of handling the ores from the Orient. The Japanese and Chinese ores will be carried here in the company's own line of freighters, which service will no doubt be expanded when the time is ripe into a regular line of passneger and greigh steamers. In plain words then the smelter means the doubling of San Mateo county's population within the next five years. Wake up, everybody, get in line.—San Matoe Leader.

THAYER-MORRELL NUPTIALS

The Bride Is a Daughter of Geo. Morrell, a Resident of This City.

J. Carl Thayer, a well known civil engineer formerly of New York city and at present employed by the Los Angeles railroad company was quietly married to Miss May Morrell of Visalia, Cal., Saturday afternoon last in the bridal chamber of the Angelus hotel.

The marriage of Mr. Thayer to Miss Morrell is due to the disaster in San Francisco on April 18. Miss Morrell and her parents were then in the stricken city and owing to the fire and earthquake moved back to their former home in Visalia.

A short time ago Mr. Thayer met Miss Morrell in Visalia and a warm friendship sprung up. Coincident to the Morrell's removal to Visalia Mr. Thayer was detailed to take charge of the construction of the sugar plant at that city.

While in Visalia the horrors of the seismic disturbance in the Golden Gate city was so impressed upon Mr. Thayer that he decided to take no more chances without the companionship of the young woman whom he had chosen to become his wife.

The ceremony last Saturday at the Angelus was performed by Rev. Dr. Young, Indiana St., of Los Angeles. Only the most intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer were present.

The bride up until a short time ago resided at Woodside and at one time lived in this city. Her father, Geo. Morrell, is temporarily making his home in this city.

The Ocean Shore Road.

C. E. Loss, contractor for the building of the Ocean Shore road, who was been to Chicago in the interests of the company, left that city on his way home last evening. His visit there was largely to make arrangements for further supplies for the construction of the road. He telegraphed to one of the leading stockholders yesterday that his mission had been successful and on his return the work on the road will be pushed with renewed vigor. For the last month the work on the bluffs and through the district needing heavy blasting has been discontinued.

The work on the engine house at Halfmoon Bay is still actively going on. The company expects that many will take advantage of the opportunity to build homes all along the line between San Francisco and its present terminus in place of the homes destroyed by fire.

J. Downey Harvey, president of the company, is at present in New York attending to financial matters for the company.

A Celebration at Pescadero.

There will be a mammoth celebratio of the Fourth of July at Pescadero. The citizens are making elaborate preparations for the event. There will be speechmaking, literary exercises, parade, dancing and barbecue. The celebration will be under the auspices of the Native Sons of Pescadero. District Attorney J. J. Bullock has been selected as the orator of the day. Assessor C. D. Hayward has been chosen marshal.

Assembly Bill 78.

Assembly bill No. 78, an act which permits school districts to vote bonds for repairing buildings has been introduced in the assembly by R. H. Jury. It has passed both houses and is now awaiting the Governor's signature which will no doubt be given. This act will permit the Sequoia high school district to raise the money needed to repair its building by a bond issue.

THE NEW HALE ROAD.

Roadbed Has Been Graded Within Two Miles of Palo Alto.

Large gangs of men and dozens of teams are at work on the line of the proposed extension of the Interurban Railroad system from Los Gatos west to Mayfield. There is now no doubt that the company means business and it is probable that the grading of the roadbed will be completed as far as Mayfield by August. A considerable quantity of railroad material is being delivered at Mayfield and unloaded by a local contractor.

Marshall Black of the J. J. Morris Real Estate company, who made a trip through the foothills in his automobile yesterday, states that the grading gangs have reached this side of Steven's creek. Many men and teams are employed and the work is going forward without delay. The grade stakes have already been set and Rafferty orchards and through the Stanford estate, up to the old Barron place. The work is now within two miles and a half of Palo Alto.

No inofrmation has been given out by the Hale people as to what their route will be between Mayfield and the San Mateo line. They will undoubtedly make an attempt to enter Palo Alto either by an extension of the Mayfield line, or by a spur, should the main line be built back of the university. Mayfield will be used as a junction with the Southern Pacific.

Through San Mateo county, the original Woodside route has been cut out and the road will run through the foothills only a short distance back from Fair Oaks and Menlo Park. It will run into Belmont and from there will parallel the Southern Pacific tracks to San Mateo.—Palo Alto Times.

EARTHQUAKES.

Dr. F. Omori, professor of Seismology of the Imperial university of Japan, who was sent to this coast by the Japanese government to make a searching investigation of the recent earthquake was in Redwood City Monday. He is a highly educated gentleman and spoke freely concerning the earthquake. Accompanied by Hermann Schussler, chief engineer for the Spring Valley Water company he made a thorough investigation of the crack in the earth beginning at Lake Merced and running along the Spring Valley lakes through Portola to Salina

"Earthquakes," said he to a Times-Gazette reporter "have a tendency to come in groups, namely, they occur at different parts of a given region or zone in the course of a few years. Thus, between September 4, 1899, and January 31, 1906, there have been a series of seismic disturbances which affected the southwest coast of Alaska Mexico, Central America, Columbia, and Equador, indicating that these earthquakes were of no local character, but that great stresses were going on along the Pacific coast, so that the extension of the seismic disturbance to the coast of the United States would have been a most natural event to be expected. The great earthquake of April 18 last may probably be regarded as having completed the continuity of the manifestation of seismic activity along this part of the world.

"Now an earthquake is caused by the existence of a certain weak point, underground, which, reaching its limit finally gives rise to a sudden disturbance which forms the source of wave motion propagated through the rocks and soil. An earthquake, such as that on April 18, may therefore be regarded as having removed a considerable unstability existing in this part of the earth's crust; regions most strongly shaken becoming seismically the safest places for a considerable period to come. As a matter of fact, there is no instance in which great earthquakes originated successively at one and the same center. The small after shocks which will for a few years be felt by the different portions of the western coast, are not of a nature to cause alarm. On the contrary, it is well that these small shocks should occur, as the disturbed earth's crust settles, by means of them, into its original condition of equilibrium. The intensity or destructive power of any seismic disturbance which may visit San Francisco after a considerable period of years is not likely to be violent enough to damage any well constructed building. It will be an easy matter to make architectural and engineering structures earthquake proof."

Died at Portala.

Timothy O'Sullivan, commonly known as "Ted Sullivan," died at his home in Portala last Sunday. His death was sudden. He did not complain of illness until Sunday morning. Deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 48 years. Some years ago he married a daughter of the late Jose Martinez. Mr. Sullivan was well liked by all who knew him. The burial took place Wednesday forenoon from the Portala Catholic church.

Next year's appropriation wanted fo the Panama canal is $26,000,000, and the expenditure already is $75,000,000. The prospect of the outlay for the next ten or fifteen years goes far beyond the original estimate, but Uncle Sam's way is to carry through what he undertakes.

The Gates of Paradise.

When the plague which visited Florence in the year 1400 had subsided the people decided as a thank offering to add bronze gates to the baptistery of the Church of St. John the Baptist, and the guild of merchants invited the best artists of the day to compete. The design of Ghiberti was considered faultless, and he was intrusted with the work on Nov. 23, 1403. It was twenty-one years before the two folding doors were completed, and so exquisite was their design and workmanship that Michael Angelo a century later said of them, "They are worthy to be the gates of paradise." This applied also to another door wrought and designed by the same artist, which was put in place June 16, 1452, a most important creation of Florentine art and one which evidently influenced Michael Angelo himself.

Wrong Proportions.

"He offered her his hand and fortune."
"Did she accept?"
"No; the first was too large and the second too small!"

Self Taught.

The Mother—Now, Elsie, did I teach you to throw your clothes on the floor in that disreputable way?
Elsie—No, mamma; I learned myself.—Puck.

The lights in the theater set the men a good example; they seldom go out between the acts.

Wonderful Miniature Book.

The smallest bound book in the great collection of miniature books owned by the New York Library society is a campaign document issued in 1852. It bears not only the distinction of being the smallest volume in the great collection referred to, but has been pronounced by experts in booklore to be one of the tiniest books in existence. It contains but fourteen leaves, each of which is closely printed on both sides in microscopic type. Each leaf is one and one-half inches in length and seven-eighths of an inch in width. The title page bears the following inscription: "Life and Public Services of General Pierce. Respectfully Dedicated to General Lewis Cass. Concord Press, 1852."

Common Names.

All nations have their Smiths, Joneses and Robinsons. In France the name which is used to signify one of a very large number of men, as Smith is sometimes figuratively used with us, is Durand, the commonest name in the French directories. In Berlin and other cities of north Germany Herr Meyer is Mr. Smith. But in some parts of Germany the name of Schulze is the most common name.

Encouragement.

New Clerk—I think I understand the business pretty well now. Employer—Yes? Keep at it four or five years. Perhaps you'll understand it then as well as you think you do now.—Philadelphia Ledger.

PORTER'S CHANCES FOR GOVERNOR.

Edward H. Hamilton, political reporter for the Examiner, is on excellent terms with the politicians and statesmen of all parties. He seldom, if ever, misrepresents their views when reporting them as for or against any man or measure. In the Examiner he had an article relating to the preferences of Monterey county's representatives in the Legislature in the matter of the Governorship, in which he says:

"But down in Santa Cruz Warren Porter, the Watsonville banker, is Herrin's man. He has a local popularity that will win him that county, despite the old feud with the Radcliffs, and he is strong in Monterey, San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara. In the last named county his brother-in-law, Robert Easton, manager of the Sisquoc ranch, is an exceptionally popular man and undoubtedly can swing the county for him, with Herrin's quietly beneficent assistance. Senator Henry Lynch of San Luis Obispo said that Porter was sure of that county, and Assemblyman Cooper of Monterey was so enthusiastic over the same candidate's prospects that he declared 75 per cent of the Democrats of the Castroville and Pajaro region would vote for Porter against anybody else."

Incidentally Mr. Hamilton puts John D. Mackenzie, the one-time "boss" of Santa Clara county, for Porter, and Senator Shortridge, who is still enjoying the emoluments of an office through the favor of the Governor, in favor of Pardee.

Large shipments of Tragedy plums are being made from Vacaville to eastern markets.

According to County Fruit Inspector Brown, there will be almost a million fruit trees planted in Yakima county, Wash., this season. He estimates about 10,000 acres of new orchard.

It is reported that the damage by the recent rains to the beans and barley in the vicinity of Sherman Island is very slight. The crops promise to be unusally good, the outlook for beans being particularly bright.

The pear crop about Alviso, Santa Clara county, is reported to be good with the exception of a few varieties. Bartletts are a full crop. The apple crop is poor but of good quality, not having as much scab as in the past years.

The Wenatchee, Wash., Fruit Growers' Association, with a caital stock of $15,000, has filed articles of incorporation. It will handle the fruit of its members and also buy and distribute all the paper boxes used by them.

According to the Santa Ana Blade arrangements have been completed by which Santa Ana will have a pickle factory soon. It is proposed to pickle green walnuts first and later on, green olives, cucumbers, onions, beans cauliflower, etc.

Queer Salt.

In Lapland they have no salt, and the bark of the fir tree is used as a substitute. The Lapps peel the bark from the trunk of the tree, carefully remove the epidermis and then divide the inner bark into quite a number of very thin layers. During the brief but extremely hot Lapland summer the layers are exposed to the sun until thoroughly dried; then they are torn into narrow strips and placed in boxes made of fresh bark taken from other trees. Deep holes are then dug in the sand, and the bark boxes are buried in them, where they are allowed to remain for about three days. The second day fires are made over places where the boxes are buried and kept burning briskly for several hours. The heat penetrates deep into the sand, turns the fir bark a deep red color and gives to it a pleasing taste and odor. Finally the boxes are unearthed, the fir strips are pounded or ground into a coarse powder, and the Lapps use it just as we do salt, only much more sparingly, because it is so troublesome to prepare.

THE GIRDLE.

It Was a Much Used Arrangement In the Middle Ages.

In the middle ages at the girdle were hung the thousand and one odds and ends needed and utilized in everyday affairs. The scrivener had his ink horn and pen attached to it, the scholar his book or books, the monk his crucifix and rosary, the innkeeper his tallies and everybody his knife. So many and so various were the articles attached to it that the flippant began to poke fun. In an old play there is mention of a merchant who had hanging at his girdle a pouch, a spectacle case, a "punniard," a pen and ink horn and a "handkercher," with many other trinkets besides, which a merry companion seeing said, "It was like a haberdasher's shop of small wares." In another early play a lady says to her maid: "Give me my girdle and see that all the furniture be at it. Look that cigars, pinchers, the penknife, the knife to close letters with, the bodkin the ear picker and the scale be in the case." Girdles were in some respects like the chatelaines of more modern times, but they differed therefrom in being more useful, more comprehensive in regard both to sex and to articles worn, and when completely finished more costly. It is partly for this reason that we find girdles bequeathed as precious heirlooms and as valuable presents to keep the giver's memory green after death. They were not infrequently of great intrinsic value.

A QUEER CHANDELIER.

It Is Made of Human Bones and Hangs In a Church.

In the center of the arched roof of All Saints' church, Sedlitz, in Bohemia, hangs a chandelier constructed entirely of human bones. The church in which this remarkable object is suspended is decorated from the floor to the ceiling with the blanched bones of human bodies. Garlands of bones stretch across the walls and hang from the ceiling. Pyramids, topped with golden crowns, are artistically reared from the ground with these whitened remains of the dead. The altars are literally covered with skulls, among which are hundreds of those which had been pierced by bullets or crushed by murderous blows from swords and other weapons, denoting that these grim relics of humanity have been gathered from adjacent battlefields.

Tradition says that these piles of human bones were gathered by a blind friar of the Cistercian order, who stored them in a corner of the church. As they were fast clinging into their original elements, a man named Rint devoted himself to the task of cleaning and arranging them in the church. Prince Carl of Schwarzenberg took a strong personal interest in the restoration and arrangement of the church and ordered all the repairs to be done at his own expense. A large number of tourists visit this extraordinary church every year.—London Tit-Bits.

SPORTS OF THE BLIND.

Plenty of Amusement For Those Who Are Bereft of Sight.

With closed eyes two young men in the blind asylum were playing chess. The board they played on had the black squares raised and the white ones sunken, while the black pieces were rough and the white ones smooth.

"Give us this handicap on account of our blindness," said one of the young men, "and we will play as quick and accurate a game of chess as anybody. Give us checkers and a checkerboard constructed on the same plan, and there, too, our playing will equal yours.

"I would rather be blind than deaf," he went on. "Blindness doesn't rob you of much. The blind are excellent anglers. They play a good game of euchre or poker or bridge. They use cards that have embossed pips.

"The blind are good runners, good gymnasts. In our last sports the hundred yards were done in under twelve seconds, and on the horizontal and parallel bars the giant swing, the corkscrew the straight arm balance and the finger balance were executed in a way that elicited salvos of applause."—New York Press.

Stockings of Human Hair.

They were black stockings, thick, stiff, lustrous, and the price mark on them was $15.

"From China," said the dealer—"from northern China. Every family has a few pairs of human hair stockings there. They are worn over the cotton stockings—they are too prickly to be worn next the skin—and, properly treated, they last a lifetime. The Chinese exporter who sold me these stockings said that when a child's hair is shaved in northern China the hair is preserved in a special hair box of lacquer. As soon as the box is full enough the hair is taken from it, and a pair of stockings is woven. Such stockings have a sentimental, almost a religious value, and they are rarely parted with. It would be safe to bet that there are not six other pairs of hair stockings on sale in America."—New York Press.
